Filming and Set Operations

You’ve put so much time into your final product. Make sure it’s protected.

Whether your product is a feature film, television production, webcast, podcast, industrial training or an educational project, you’re going to need to insure against the risk of destruction and loss.

Broadly speaking, most production companies have a variety of tangible elements to cover. These tangibles include people, locations, equipment, props, sets, wardrobe, vehicles and the media containing the already captured images. It’s not limited to tangibles, though. Something many producers overlook is the protection of intangibles, like intellectual property. Properly insuring the ideas behind your work is one of the most effective ways to protect what you’ve created.

Key Insight

No matter where you are in the filming process, a sudden change or accident can leave your film set exposed to numerous risks. From the start of your relationship, we’ll work with you to understand those potential risks and help fill in any gaps.

NFP’s entertainment specialists will work with you to navigate sudden challenges that come your way, all while keeping your goals in mind and helping you keep the filming process running smoothly.

When you succeed, we succeed. Our relationships with industry leaders and up-to-date insights give you access to the risk mitigation strategies you need. Our specialists will leverage their position within the industry to craft a risk mitigation strategy that works for you.

© 2021 NFP Corp. | 21-FPC-GEN-SVP-0370
Setting the Stage for a Successful Film Project

The insurance film projects require for a successful film project include:

- Entertainment package policy
  - Cast coverage
  - Media (negative film/faulty processing)
  - Miscellaneous equipment
  - Extra expense
  - Third party property damage
  - Props, sets and wardrobe
- General liability (bodily injury and property damage)
- Commercial auto
- Excess liability (for limits in excess of $1,000,000)
- Workers’ compensation
- Producers errors and omissions
- Guild travel accident (union requirements)

Covering the Film Set and Beyond

NFP is a full-service insurance brokerage firm. In addition to the products mentioned above, NFP can also provide the following coverages:

- Directors and officers liability coverage
- Weather insurance
- Homeowners and personal auto coverage
- Fine arts coverage

Contact us to find out how we can make your filming operation more secure.

Alex Baiserri
Vice President
P: 805-537-0146 | alex.baiserri@nfp.com | www.nfp.com